Assignment of Copyright

This copyright assignment must be executed by all authors of each manuscript submitted for publication. If there is more than one author, the primary author is responsible for obtaining the signatures of all co-authors. All authors have read and approved the final manuscript. All individuals who have contributed significantly to the study are acknowledged by name and their permission obtained.

Title of Article:

If this manuscript was prepared as part of any author's duties as a US Federal Government Employee, that author should sign the statement on the following page rather than the statement below.

In consideration of the American Journal of Clinical Pathology taking action in reviewing and editing the above named Article, effective upon acceptance of the Article by the ASCP, the Author(s) hereby assign(s) to the American Society for Clinical Pathology (hereinafter referred to as ASCP) its legal representatives, successors and assigns, all publishing rights and each and every other right to the Article throughout the world, in any language and in any medium, whether as an audiovisual work, collective work, compilation, derivative work, joint work, literary work, phonorecord, pictorial, graphic or sculptural work, sound recording, work of visual art, computer program, or any other medium now existing or which hereafter may come into existence, including the copyright and the right to register the copyright as well as the right to secure any renewals, reissues, and extensions of any such copyrights in the United States or in any foreign country. Author(s) may request permission to reuse the manuscript or portions thereof. Such requests must be in writing and permission by the ASCP shall not be unreasonably withheld. The Author(s) appoint(s) the ASCP as the Author's(s') attorney-in-fact to execute any documents the ASCP deems necessary to record any of these grants with the United States copyright office or elsewhere.

The Author(s) also warrant(s) to the ASCP that the Article is the original work of the Author(s) except for material in the public domain and such excerpts from other works as may be included with the written permission of the copyright owners; that the Article has not previously been published, submitted, or accepted for publication elsewhere (in any language); that the authors have contributed significantly to this paper, understand it, and endorse it; and that the authors have no relationship, financial or otherwise, with any manufacturers or distributors of products evaluated in this paper or, alternatively, any such relationship has been disclosed in a footnote to the paper or the requirement is irrelevant to this paper.
