ACLPS 2023

Annual Meeting

8-10 June 2023

DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel

Charlottesville, Virginia

Organized by the University of Virginia Department of Pathology

ACLPS
*Advancing teaching and scholarship in Laboratory
Medicine since 1966*

About ACLPS

The Academy of Clinical Laboratory Physicians and Scientists (ACLPS) is the leading professional society for academic Laboratory Medicine and is dedicated to advancing the highest standards for medical curricula, post-graduate training, research, and clinical practice in the field. The Academy has active affiliations with 70 academic and community centers that train residents in clinical pathology. Members include physicians, scientists, medical technologists with graduate degrees, and educators.

About The Meeting Organizers

The center hosting and organizing the 2023 ACLPS Annual Meeting is the University of Virginia Department of Pathology. The department embraces the central role of its discipline at an academic medical center, fully engaging in clinical, educational and research missions. Its clinical faculty are internationally known in diagnostic expertise, solidified by authorship and editorship of major medical texts and journals. UVA Pathology faculty carry out research that spans the spectrum of biomedical inquiry: basic research into biological and disease mechanisms, translational research that brings advances in experimental science to clinical utility in diagnostics and therapeutics, and clinical research that refines and advances current medical practice.

Who Attends the ACLPS Annual Meeting?

The expected 250+ attendees are MD and PhD clinical laboratory directors from leading academic medical centers as well as residents and fellows from those programs. Fields represented include:

- Clinical Chemistry
- Clinical Microbiology
- Clinical Hematology
- Toxicology
- Blood Banking and Transfusion Medicine
- Cellular Therapy
- Clinical Informatics
- Clinical Immunology
- Clinical Laboratory Genetics and Genomics
- Laboratory Automation

Awards

ACLPS encourages the participation of Young Investigators and supports their developing careers with the Young Investigator Awards abstract presentations, the Ellis Benson Award and Lecture, and research presentations by the recipients of the Paul E. Standjord Young Investigator Grant.

Meeting Venue

DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel

990 Hilton Heights Road, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901

The DoubleTree hotel overlooks the Rivanna River and is located just 7 minutes from the Charlottesville-Albemarle airport and 20 minutes from the University of Virginia and historic downtown Charlottesville. Features include contemporary rooms, free WiFi, a fitness center, an indoor pool/whirlpool, and the Root 29 Craft Kitchen & Bar. The hotel is very convenient to dining and shopping.

University of Virginia

UVA was founded in 1819 by third U.S. President, Thomas Jefferson, to be an institution “based on the illimitable freedom of the human mind.” It has grown from the original Academical Village (a UNESCO World Heritage Site) to a globally recognized academic research center. The goals of UVA Health are to accelerate innovation and discovery in its labs, transform how care is delivered, and put the best ideas into action every day for every patient. Laboratory Medicine is integral to these goals.

Charlottesville, Virginia

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Charlottesville is a prime destination for lovers of history and beautiful scenery. Enjoy your down time with a stroll on the historic pedestrian mall, boutique shopping on “The Corner” near UVA grounds, and a peek into the dorm room of Edgar Allan Poe. Extend your stay to take in a show at the Paramount Theater, tour area wineries and micro breweries, and visit the homes of three U.S. Presidents. The venue planned for the Awards Banquet on Friday evening is the lovely Montalto, part of the estate of Thomas Jefferson at his celebrated home, Monticello.
